ASIAN CHI SYMPOSIUM

WITH CO-LOCATED SEACHI 2022 WORKSHOP

13 - 14 APRIL 2022

The Asian CHI symposium is an annual event organized by researchers and practitioners in the Asia Pacific since 2015. The symposium aims to bring together both early-career and seasoned HCI academia and UX practitioners from industries in the Asia Pacific and bring about cross-exchange of information and transfer of knowledge in a multidisciplinary environment and multi-socio-economic aspects of HCI research, foster social ties and collaboration in the field of HCI.

Beyond showcasing the latest Asian-inspired HCI work, the Asian CHI Symposium 2022 is a sandbox for decolonizing yet academically rigorous discourse platform for both HCI academic and UX practitioners to present their latest research findings and solutions that reflect the expansion of HCI theory and applications towards culturally inclusive design for diverse audiences in Asia.

In 2022, we will specifically co-organize a collocated-event, SEACHI 2022 workshop to provide an opportunity for the Southeast Asian HCI community to discuss working agenda to accelerate HCI and UX research, community and collaboration in Southeast Asia.

Call for Submissions

We welcome two types of submissions:
1. Original Works
2. Showcases

Notes: Original Works are novel works that have never been published, while Showcases are relevant works that have been published in any HCI conferences, i.e. CHI or HCI journals.

Topics

HCI and UX-related research studies, projects, case studies related to and/or conducted in Asia and/or Southeast Asia regions

Important Dates

- Submission Deadline:
  18 February 2022
- Notification of Acceptance:
  4 March 2022
- Submission of Camera-Ready:
  24 March 2022

Steering Committee

- Masitah Ghazali,
  Universiti Teknologi Malaysia
- Eunice Sari, UX Indonesia
- Josh (Adi) Tedjasaputra,
  Customer Experience Insight

Further information and contact symposium.asianchi.net